

Entrepreneurs from Oman honoured in Mideast awards

MUSCAT — Two entrepreneurs from Oman — Samir Fancy, Chairman of Renaissance Services SAOG and Maqbool Hammed al Saleh, Chairman and founder of OHI Group of Companies, received awards as Finalists in the 2007 Ernst & Young Middle East Entrepreneur of the Year Awards held at a gala dinner at Madinat Jumeirah in Dubai this week.

The Entrepreneur of the Year awards programme was created and is produced by professional services firm Ernst & Young.

As the first award of its kind, the Ernst & Young Entrepreneur of the Year Award recognises outstanding entrepreneurs who are building and leading dynamic and growing businesses.

The programme, which celebrated its 20th anniversary in 2006, honours entrepreneurs through regional, national and global award programmes in over 125 cities and 40 countries.

SAMIR Fancy (centre), flanked by Ahmed al Aiban and Fouad Alaeddin who represent the award organisers. Below: Maqbool Hammed al Saleh (centre).

